PERSONALLY IDENTIFIABLE INFORMATION

We collect personally identifiable information from our Users at several different points on our Website. When this Privacy Notice uses the term “personally identifiable information,” we mean information that identifies a particular individual, such as the individual’s name, postal address, email address, payment information, telephone number, IP address, etc. When other information, such as consumer preferences, is directly associated with personally identifiable information, this other information also becomes personally identifiable information for purposes of this Privacy Notice.

We maintain basic administrative, technical and physical safeguards to protect your personal information. However, no internet platform or database is completely secure. You are also responsible for taking reasonable steps to protect your personally identifiable information against unauthorized disclosure, interception or misuse. As there is no way for us to ensure or guarantee the privacy of User information before it arrives at the Website or after it leaves the Website, we are not responsible for the actions of any third parties that may receive any such information.

INFORMATION THAT WE COLLECT Information That You Provide

We collect and store information through the Website. All Users have the option of providing various types of personally identifiable information to us through the Website. In some cases, in order to perform the services offered through the Website, the collection of personally identifiable information is mandatory. This information may be transmitted to our trusted business partners who fulfill the services requested. We may also use this information to respond to your requests and communicate with you. Because we are committed to the responsible handling of any personally identifiable information, we will use it only as outlined below.

Please note that providing your personally identifiable information is completely voluntary, and you will still have access to the Website even if you decide not provide us with your personally identifiable information. However, certain services or features available through the Website will not function properly in that case. Information Collected Automatically

We receive and store certain types of information each time you access the Website. We log your IP address to help us to diagnose problems with our servers, administer the Website, and track usage statistics. We may match IP addresses to completed registration forms for validation and error checking purposes. If you reached the Website by clicking on a link or ad from another website, then we may also log that information. This helps us to maximize our Internet exposure and to understand the interests of our Users. In general, this information is used to generate overall anonymous reports on our Users that enable us to improve the effectiveness of the Website.

We may also engage in online behavioral advertising, also known as interest-based advertising, so that third-party advertising companies can display ads tailored to your individual interests based on how you browse and shop online. These third-party companies may over time collect certain information about you when you visit this Website and other websites and use that information to serve ads for our services or for the products or services of other companies likely to be of interest to you. These parties typically use a cookie or a third party web beacon to collect this information.

Data Tracking

When you visit the Website, we may send one or more small files known as “cookies” to your computer. A cookie may contain information that allows us to track your path through the Website and to determine whether you have visited us before. However, unless you provide us with personally identifiable information, the cookies will not contain any information that would allow us to personally identify you. If you do provide personally identifiable information to us, the cookie is tied to this information so that our systems will recognize you each time you visit the Website. In that way, we can save your preferences from visit to visit and present you with a customized version of the Website, without requiring you to log into the Website every time you visit. Our cookies cannot be used to read any other data from your computer and cannot retrieve information from any other cookies created by other Websites. We use cookies to help us understand how Users use the Website, and to help us to improve the Website. You may refuse to accept a cookie from us by following the procedures for rejecting cookies specific to your web browser. Although you may do so, you may find that your browser reacts strangely when visiting not only our Website, but other websites as well.

If you visit the website of one of our business partners (e.g., advertisers) by clicking on a link from our Website, they may also use cookies on their website. We have no access to or control over these cookies. This privacy statement covers the use of cookies by us only and does not cover the use of cookies by any advertisers or other websites.

User Activity Tracking

We may employ software technology that enables us to track certain aspects of a User's visit to the Website. This technology helps us better manage content on the Website by informing us what content is effective. User activity information may be associated with additional information about a User's session, such as IP Address, the type of browser used, and, if provided by the User, personally identifiable information.

If you arrive at the Website by "clicking through" from another website, and you have registered with that other website, then certain information about you that you provided to that other website (for example, terms you were searching that led you to the Website) may be transmitted to us and we may use it. You should review the Privacy Notice of any third-party website from which you reached the Website in order to determine what information was collected by that website and for what purpose(s) you agreed that website could use that information. We may or may not retain information about you provided to us by other websites. If we do, we will only use it in accordance with this Privacy Notice. Such information may or may not be associated with other User activity data or personally identifiable information.

Use of "Do Not Track" Software

At this time, our systems do not respond to browser "do not track" signals or other mechanisms that allow you to exercise choice regarding the collection of personally identifiable information over time or across third-party websites or online services.

Social Media Widgets

The Website may from time-to-time include social media features, such as the Facebook Like button, Google Plus, Pinterest, and Twitter widgets. These features may collect information about your IP address and which page you're visiting on our site, and they may set a cookie to make sure the feature functions properly. Social media features and widgets are either hosted by a third party or hosted directly on our site. Your interactions with those features are governed by the privacy policies of the companies that provide them.
